Make the certified athletic trainer your allied health care professional of choice. Use the NATA Career Center to locate one today.

Sponsored by Gatorade, the NATA Career Center is the most comprehensive job listing service for athletic trainers worldwide and the most visited page on the NATA website.

The site had more than 1.7 million visitors and 15.5 million total page views.

Employers can create an employer profile that includes a brief description of the organization, address and a link to the employer website. Employers can search the database for candidate profiles by specific criteria.

Other resources include:

- Sample job descriptions
- Salary information and guidelines
- Success stories of athletic trainers in many health care settings

At just $275 for a full-time position listing and $75 for a part-time listing, the NATA Career Center allows you access to the largest database of certified athletic trainers for less than the cost of most local newspaper advertisements.

NATA is pleased to offer the Career Center Secondary School Employment Grant, thanks to the generous support of Gatorade and Johnson & Johnson. Schools pay only $75 of the $275 position listing fee. For information visit: www.nata.org/careercenter/ss_grantprogram.htm.

NATA 2008 Salary Survey Results

The National Athletic Trainers' Association is committed to providing our members with professional job opportunities commensurate with their skills and educational background. Athletic trainers are highly trained and educated allied healthcare professionals. They specialize in the prevention, assessment, treatment and rehabilitation of injuries and illnesses. All hold a bachelor's degree; almost 70 percent hold a master's or doctoral degree.

Athletic trainers can be found working wherever people are physically active. Our members work in secondary schools, colleges and universities, professional sports, hospitals and clinics, the military, law enforcement, performing arts and occupational/industrial settings.

This chart to the right can assist you in posting your open position for an athletic trainer in your organization. It gives salary information for athletic trainers across all work settings.
