

FEATURED RECAP

Thank You for Attending NATA 2019!

Thank you to the more than 13,700 attendees who joined us at the 70th NATA Clinical Symposia & AT Expo this year in Las Vegas. With 286 speakers presenting on a variety of topics, there was something from every interest and career setting. A special thanks to all of our volunteers who helped make this year's convention a success. Now that the convention is over, we'd like to hear from you. Please help us improve future NATA conventions by completing our attendee survey, which will be emailed to attendees in July. Your feedback is vital as we plan future events.

Earn Your CEUs, EBP CEUs

In line with BOC requirements, NATA provides statements of credit post-event. After the evaluation period closes July 31, an email will be sent to all confirmed attendees eligible for CEUs, with instructions on how to access and print their statement of credit. This email will be sent by mid-August. It is the attendee's responsibility to check their statement of credit, upon receipt, to confirm it is accurate. If you have a question about your statement, email knowledgeinitiatives@nata.org.

Don't Forget to Fill Out Your Speaker Evaluations

In order for NATA to continue to improve programming and make the education received at convention the best possible, your feedback is needed. If you attended any of the evidence-based practice CEU session, you must turn in your speaker evaluation by July 31. This is a great opportunity to reflect on what you learned and what you plan to implement from convention. Those who don't complete their speaker evaluations by the July 31 deadline will receive Category A CEUs. Also, don't forget to check out the convention handout library, which will be updated with the NATA 2019 material as it's made available. Note: You will need your registration number and last name to access the handouts.

Looking Ahead to NATA 2020

Save the date! The 71th NATA Clinical Symposia & AT Expo is June 17-20, 2020, in Atlanta. There is still time to submit a proposal for NATA 2020 on the Convention Call for Proposals website. The NATA Convention Program Committee oversees development of the educational program, which consists of committee-developed programming and proposal submissions. We welcome proposal submissions from NATA members and nonmembers. Be sure to read the proposal guidelines for each program format prior to submission. A non-refundable proposal submission fee applies and is $25 for NATA members and $50 for NATA nonmembers (excluding NATA committees or affiliates).
